Solution

Dashboards and portals are great business reporting tools, but the reality is most executives in today's hectic business environment don't have the time to open multiple windows to analyze streams of reports in order to make instant business decisions. Our PushBI Desktop Gadget solves that time crunching exercise and redefines simplicity for those numbers you just want to keep your eye on in real time!

Our PushBI Desktop tool is a real-time Window's gadget that provides instant access to key metrics without the user ever having to open a new application. We leverage your existing BI infrastructure and investments making this an easy-to-download desktop gadget 'must have' tool.

Personalized Business Intelligence

Our solutions are based on the philosophy that Business Intelligence is not about the tools – it's about the user. We refer to it as 'Personalized Business Intelligence' and with this approach in mind, we deliver information to your employees in a way that is consistent with how they perform their jobs – leveraging the tools and software they use every day and allowing them to make informed decisions in a timely manner.
